LOST VOTES ON 34TH
BALLOT

(By United Press)
Madison Square Garden,
New York, July 2.—The Democratic national convention recessed until 8 o'clock tonight.

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 2.—Under his personal direction from headquarters just across the street from Madison Square Garden, William G. McAdoo this morning is making a determined drive in the Democratic national convention to bring about his nomination for the presidency.

After determined work on the part of his floor managers McAdoo got Mississippi's 20 votes in his column on the 34th ballot and Oklahoma returned to the McAdoo standard with 20 more, raising the total to 445. The change in the vote was accompanied by rousing demonstrations in the part of McAdoo delegations, but this vote of 445 is still 34 short of what McAdoo polled on the first ballot and he still has considerable to raise to regain his original strength. Missouri, McAdoo managers claim, may be expected to shift back to him on the 34th or 35th ballot.

Just how little the shift of votes on the 34th ballot meant was indicated when Oklahoma again dropped McAdoo and returned to Owen on the 35th. The McAdoo vote then stood at 439 and Smith at 323½.

Some humorist in the North Dakota delegation decided to inject a little comedy into the proceedings by casting one of North Dakota's 10 votes on the 36th ballot for E. L. Doheny, who recently was indicted for alleged frauds in connection with the leasing of Teapot Dome and other oil lands through former Secretary of the Interior Fall.

The man who cast the vote for Doheny was one of those who had been voting for Al Smith.

There was much laughter among the delegations when it was announced that Doheny had been given a vote.

CONVENTION DEADLOCKED WHEN CONVENING TODAY

New York, July 2.—The Democratic national convention was still tightly deadlocked when it resumed balloting today.

The thirty-first ballot, completed at 11:25 a. m., showed not the slightest change insofar as the leading figures are concerned, over the final ballot taken last night. McAdoo polled 415½, exactly the same vote that he counted on the thirtieth ballot. Smith held at 322½. John W. Davis showed 127½, but Davis is considered through.

It is obvious from activities on the floor that McAdoo is making his big drive this morning to bring about a return to his ranks of the 62 votes he lost yesterday. McAdoo cheer leaders are everywhere. They leaped to their feet shouting and waving flags as every vote is recorded for the Californian.

William J. Bryan, Breckenridge and other McAdoo floor workers were hurrying from delegation to delegation. They are concentrating on delegations that left the McAdoo fold yesterday. A break-up in Missouri was forecast during the morning. In every delegation there is talk of the dark horses. Several groups have discussed Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, as standing for the principles the party wishes to carry in the campaign. Tom Taggart was still riding in the rear but with his mount well in hand for Samuel Ralston.

BRYAN CAUSES RIOT WHEN HE ENDORSES McADOO

LEADING CANDIDATE HEADS A LIST OF SEVEN PRO-POSED

THIRD DAY OF BALLOTING FAILS TO NAME ANY CANDI-DATE

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 2.—William Jennings Bryan threw the democratic convention into a turmoil this afternoon when he took the platform and after naming a list of seven men whom he regarded as fit for the presidential nomination, wound up with the strongest endorsement for William G. McAdoo.

Bryan was in his old-time form. He characterized McAdoo as a progressive, as the man who made it possible for the present convention to be progressive. He had not mentioned Governor Al Smith in his list up to that time and a reference to the candidate having to have a clear record on the matter of liquor law enforcement led some Smith delegates to think he was taking a deliberate thrust at the governor.

As McAdoo was named by Bryan the California delegation leaped to their feet waving flags. The Smith delegations rushed into the aisles in an angry mood.

Shouts of derision and bitter invective were hurled at the commoner. "Get down. You haven't a friend in the world."

"Oil, oil, oil," came from other directions.

One shout demanded that the galleries be cleared.

A delegate shouted at the top of his voice demanding that Bryan recognize him.

"How can you stand there and endorse a man who accepted money from the oil interests in the great scandal that has been exposed?" he demanded.

The convention was in a turmoil. Bryan pounded upon the speaker's table and pleaded for order.

"I have made speeches for a long time," he cried at the top of his voice, "and I do not make statements unless I am ready to answer questions."

"No, get out," came the answering cries.

Ed Moore, head of the Ohio delegation, jumped to his feet and yelled, "Go ahead, name the man you think it should be. We know."

There were many cries from the floor that Bryan thought he was the man himself.

"What's the matter with Smith?" came a cry.

"Give me time to develop my subject in my own way," Bryan answered.

"If you have any preference about actions, take your choice," Bryan said.

"Now I shall tell you why I am for one who fits to the occasion."

"I think it is necessary to name a progressive. A candidate must be a man whose record on the liquor question is such that every mother will know her home will be protected. I have given the names of men whose positions will not be questioned on liquor law enforcement."

Cleveland, O., July 2.—Preliminaries of another national political convention were under way here today when the national committee of the conference for progressive political action met.

The convention, which starts Friday at 10 a. m. in the auditorium where the republican party nominated Coolidge and Dawes, according to members, is expected to lose no time in nominating Senator Robert M. La Follette as its presidential candidate.

The national committee today was to hear the report of Secretary Arthur Holder. Other states are organizing by progressive groups affiliated with the conference for progressive political action.

William M. Johnson, chairman of the convention, will deliver the keynote address.

The convention is expected to last two days.

The question of a vice-presidential candidate to go on the ticket with LaFollette offers the only speculation

Councilmen referred the report to city engineers who have been asked to complete the improvement.

THOUSANDS OF RARE BLOSSOMS ARE EXHIBITED

LOCAL AND OUTSIDE GROWERS ARE COMPETING FOR HONORS

PUBLIC IS INVITED TO ATTEND

Brainerd is enjoying its first peony and Garden Flower Show, which opened today in the basement of the H. F. Michael's store, with well over a thousand blossoms, valued at from one dollar to fifty dollars each.

The basement of this store has been transformed into a veritable flower garden, with peonies, iris and gladioli vying with each other for honors, in addition to some 65 beautiful exhibits of perennials that can be successfully grown in this locality.

The show is under the supervision of Mrs. John Howard Todd, of Minneapolis, president of the Minnesota Garden Flower Society, and Mrs. H. B. Tillotson, also of Minneapolis, recording secretary of the society.

One of the large exhibitors is L. P. Hall, of Bay Lake, who has over one hundred blooms in his exhibit, ample proof of what can be done by giving one's flower garden a little attention.

The University of Minnesota responded to the invitation to exhibit at the Brainerd show, by sending one hundred beautiful peonies, and A. J. Wilkus, proprietor of the Riverview Gardens, St. Paul, has an exceptionally fine display, which included seven of the most expensive and rare varieties, namely, the James R. Mann, rose pink, Kelway's Glorious, white, Le Cygne, white, Mme. Jules Dessert, pink, Mrs. C. S. Minot, pink, white and multiflora, Philippe Rivorie, crimson, and the Sarah Bernhardt, pink.

Brainerd's interest in the flower show is displayed in the number of local entries, among them being exhibits by Mrs. Minnie Nichols, A. A. Arnold, Mrs. Albert Fox, Mrs. J. M. Hayes, Stanley Durham, Miss Amy Erickson, F. A. Farrar, Dr. J. L. Frederick, Miss Marie Adair, S. R. Adair, Olaf Brackman, Mrs. T. Peterson, Mrs. W. S. Hall and M. A. Jepson.

An important meeting is announced for flower lovers, and all who are interested in beautifying the city, which will be held this evening at the Chamber of Commerce, beginning promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Todd and Mrs. H. B. Tillotson of Minneapolis and A. J. Wilkus of St. Paul, as well as a number of local people, will speak at this meeting, which is in reality an open forum for the discussion of flowers and their culture.

The public is invited to attend tonight's meeting. In fact, everyone is urged to be present, as it is doubtful if it will be possible to assemble as many experts for some time to come as will be heard this evening.

On Thursday afternoon, between five and six o'clock, all blooms at the flower show will be sold, the proceeds to go to local charities.

St. Paul Banks Reduced Interest Rates July 1

St. Paul, July 2.—St. Paul banks lowered interest rates one-half per cent this week. Inability to operate profitably under present rates is given as the cause for the reduction. The larger downtown banks are prepared to cut their interest rates from 3½ to 3 per cent on time deposits, and from 4 to 3½ per cent on savings deposits. The reduction became effective July 1.

McAdoo.

Bryan was in his old-time form. He characterized McAdoo as a progressive, as the man who made it possible for the present convention to be progressive. He had not mentioned Governor Al Smith in his list up to that time and a reference to the candidate having to have a clear record on the matter of liquor law enforcement led some Smith delegates to think he was taking a deliberate thrust at the governor.

As McAdoo was named by Bryan the California delegation leaped to their feet waving flags. The Smith delegations rushed into the aisles in an angry mood.

Shouts of derision and bitter invective were hurled at the commoner. "Get down. You haven't a friend in the world."

"Oil, oil, oil," came from other directions. One shout demanded that the galleries be cleared.

A delegate shouted at the top of his voice demanding that Bryan recognize him.

"How can you stand there and endorse a man who accepted money from the oil interests in the great scandal that has been exposed?" he demanded.

The convention was in a turmoil. Bryan pounded upon the speaker's table and pleaded for order.

"I have made speeches for a long time," he cried at the top of his voice, "and I do not make statements unless I am ready to answer questions."

"No, get out," came the answering cries.

Ed Moore, head of the Ohio delegation, jumped to his feet and yelled, "Go ahead, name the man you think it should be. We know."

There were many cries from the floor that Bryan thought he was the man himself.

"What's the matter with Smith?" came a cry.

"Give me time to develop my subject in my own way," Bryan answered.

"If you have any preference about actions, take your choice," Bryan said.

"Now I shall tell you why I am for one who fits to the occasion."

"I think it is necessary to name a progressive. A candidate must be a man whose record on the liquor question is such that every mother will know her home will be protected. I have given the names of men whose positions will not be questioned on liquor law enforcement."

NATIONAL COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE FOR PROGRESSIVE POLITICAL ACTION

COMMITTEE MEETING, FOLLOWED BY CONVENTION OPENING FRIDAY

(By United Press)

Cleveland, O., July 2.—Preliminaries of another national political convention were under way here today when the national committee of the conference for progressive political action met.

The convention, which starts Friday at 10 a. m. in the auditorium where the republican party nominated Coolidge and Dawes, according to members, is expected to lose no time in nominating Senator Robert M. La Follette as its presidential candidate.

The national committee today was to hear the report of Secretary Arthur Holder. Other states are organizing with progressive groups affiliated with the conference for progressive political action.

William M. Johnson, chairman of the convention, will deliver the keynote address.

The convention is expected to last two days.

The question of a vice-presidential candidate to go on the ticket with La Follette offers the only speculation

CITY GETS VERDICT ON 15-YEAR-OLD STREET IMPROVEMENT

St. Paul, July 2.—After 15 years the city finally did something about the Bielenberg case.

C. F. McNally, city attorney, today reported to the city council that he had won a verdict of $8,200 against Mr. Bielenberg who agreed to grade Livingston ave. from George to Winifred sts. in return for rock to be taken from the avenue.

He took the rock but never completed the grading and the matter has been in dispute until the recent court action.

Councilmen referred the report to city engineers who have been asked to complete the improvement.

FLAG WAS STOLEN FROM AMERICAN EMBASSY IN JAPAN

(By United Press)

The man who actually stole the flag, however, is still at large.

The flag was recovered from a laborers' hotel here, where it was hidden, and will be restored to the American embassy by the Japanese authorities. Information given in the confession of the two men under arrest led to the recovery of the flag.

THOUSANDS OF RARE BLOSSOMS ARE EXHIBITED

LOCAL AND OUTSIDE GROWERS ARE COMPETING FOR HONORS

PUBLIC IS INVITED TO ATTEND TONIGHT'S OPEN FORUM

Brainerd is enjoying its first peony and Garden Flower Show, which opened today in the basement of the H. F. Michael's store, with well over a thousand blossoms, valued at from one dollar to fifty dollars each.

The basement of this store has been transformed into a veritable flower garden, with peonies, iris and gladioli vying with each other for honors, in addition to some 65 beautiful exhibits of perennials that can be successfully grown in this locality.

The show is under the supervision of Mrs. John Howard Todd, of Minneapolis, president of the Minnesota Garden Flower Society, and Mrs. H. B. Tillotson, also of Minneapolis, recording secretary of the society.

One of the large exhibitors is L. P. Hall, of Bay Lake, who has over one hundred blooms in his exhibit, ample proof of what can be done by giving one's flower garden a little attention.

The University of Minnesota responded to the invitation to exhibit at the Brainerd show, by sending one hundred beautiful peonies, and A. J. Wilkus, proprietor of the Riverview Gardens, St. Paul, has an exceptionally fine display, which included seven of the most expensive and rare varieties, namely, the James R. Mann, rose pink, Kelway's Glorious, white, Le Cygne, white, Mme. Jules Desert, pink, Mrs. C. S. Minot, pink, white and multiflora, Philippe Rivorie, crimson, and the Sarah Bernhardt, pink.

Brainerd's interest in the flower show is displayed in the number of local entries, among them being exhibits by Mrs. Minnie Nichols, A. A. Arnold, Mrs. Albert Fox, Mrs. J. M. Hayes, Stanley Durham, Miss Amy Erickson, F. A. Farrar, Dr. J. L. Frederick, Miss Marie Adair, S. R. Adair, Olaf Brackman, Mrs. T. Peterson, Mrs. W. S. Hall and M. A. Jepson.

An important meeting is announced for flower lovers, and all who are interested in beautifying the city, which will be held this evening at the Chamber of Commerce, beginning promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Todd and Mrs. H. B. Tillotson of Minneapolis and A. J. Wilkus of St. Paul, as well as a number of local people, will speak at this meeting, which is in reality an open forum for the discussion of flowers and their culture.

The public is invited to attend tonight's meeting. In fact, everyone is urged to be present, as it is doubtful if it will be possible to assemble as many experts for some time to come as will be heard this evening.

On Thursday afternoon, between five and six o'clock, all blooms at the flower show will be sold, the proceeds to go to local charities.

St. Paul Banks Reduced Interest Rates July 1

St. Paul, July 2.—St. Paul banks lowered interest rates one-half per cent this week. Inability to operate profitably under present rates is given as the cause for the reduction. The larger downtown banks are prepared to cut their interest rates from 3½ to 3 per cent on time deposits, and from 4 to 3½ per cent on savings deposits. The reduction became effective July 1.

Big Celebration July 4th at Lum Park--A Program of Sports, Parade, Fireworks

The American Legion has perfected all of its plans for the big Fourth of July celebration of Friday, to be held at Lum park, and all that is needed now is a promise from the weather man that he will give Brainerd an ideal day.

JUNE NEARLY SETS RECORD, COLD AND WET

St. Paul, July 2.—Only four times in 49 years has St. Paul seen a colder or a wetter June than June, 1924.

The average temperature for the month just ended was 63.7 or 3.4 degrees below normal. This record was broken in June, 1917, with an average temperature of 62.8; in 1915 with 62.7; in 1915 with 62.4 and in 1875 with 63.2.

These figures are according to the records of J. N. Ryker, United States meteorologist for St. Paul.

Only six days in June did the temperature go to 80 degrees above zero or more. The warmest day was June 14 when it was 85.

The rainfall during the month was 7.24 inches. Four and 41 hundredths inches is normal.

The June, 1924, record for rainfall was broken in 1920, with 7.76; in 1902, with 7.50; in 1874, with 11.67, and in 1873, with 7.74. Although the amount of rainfall was unusually great, the number of days on which measurable rainfall occurred was not above the average.

There were only five clear days during the month, 21 partly cloudy, 4 wholly cloudy, and on 8 days there were thunderstorms. On the morning of June 22 the wind blew 50 miles an hour.

JUNE NEARLY SETS RECORD, COLD AND WET

St. Paul, July 2.—Only four times in 49 years has St. Paul seen a colder or a wetter June than June, 1924. The average temperature for the month just ended was 63.7 or 3.4 degrees below normal. This record was broken in June, 1917, with an average temperature of 62.8; in 1916 with 62.7; in 1915 with 62.4 and in 1875 with 63.2.

These figures are according to the records of J. N. Ryker, United States meteorologist for St. Paul.

Only six days in June did the temperature go to 80 degrees above zero or more. The warmest day was June 14 when it was 85.

The rainfall during the month was 7.24 inches. Four and 41 hundredths inches is normal.

The June, 1924, record for rainfall was broken in 1920, with 7.76; in 1902, with 7.50; in 1874, with 11.67, and in 1873, with 7.74. Although the amount of rainfall was unusually great, the number of days on which measurable rainfall occurred was not above the average.

There were only five clear days during the month, 21 partly cloudy, 4 wholly cloudy, and on 8 days there were thunderstorms. On the morning of June 22 the wind blew 50 miles an hour.

June 30. F. E. Hanson, Ramsey County and Ruby Eckholm.

Messages in Patches

The little black "patch" that was imported from France in the days of powdered wigs and brocaded gowns did more than draw attention to the beauty of the wearer.

Formerly ladies used to patch to convey messages to their courtiers. For example, according to an old-world book, a writer in London Answers discovered recently, a patch on the left cheek bone meant to say: "I love you always;" and one on the right cheek bone: "I have not quite decided yet."

A patch on milady's dainty chin represents love given to another, while "a message for you alone" was conveyed by a discreet beauty spot placed near the ear, and "no hope at all for you" by a patch on the temple.

Quite a dainty language of love, isn't it? Will it ever be revived?

Far-Fetched Deduction

A Chicago optician deduces from spectacles that the wearer "is of nervous, perhaps neurotic tendency, rather intellectual and temperamental, and of sedentary life." This beats Sherlock Holmes.

Call for the Mail

Comparatively few people in Mexico have their mail delivered at their street address, but rent post office boxes and call for it.

NO REST—NO PEACE

There's no peace and little rest for the one who suffers from a bad back, and distressing urinary disorders. Brainerd people recommend Doan's Pills. Ask your druggist. Be guided by their experience.

Carl Sorman, 709 S. Broadway, Brainerd, says: "My back troubled me because my kidneys were disordered and I surely was in misery. My back pained continually and I could not rest at night. Mornings I was stiff and sore and had to roll out of bed. I couldn't stoop without getting a knife-like jab in my kidneys and I surely was in pain. I didn't dare to pick up anything as it seemed my back would break. It was so stiff. My kidneys acted too frequently and caused me annoyance. I bought a supply of Doan's Pills at Skauge's Drug Co. and they fixed me up in fine shape."

BEACH BEAUTIES AND THEIR SUITS

By HEDDA HOYT
(Fashion Editor of the United Press)
New York, N. Y., July 2.—

Sing a song of sixpence
Pocket full of rye
Five and twenty bathing girls
Basking neath the sky
When the day was over
The girls began to squeal
Because the sun had baked them brown
And they began to peel!

Baking the epidermis under the hot sun's rays has lost its charm to the Fashionables, who have found that sunburned complexions require months of bleaching to restore them to pink and whiteness. Women who favor the deep brown complexion for summer months are resorting to colored powders rather than to actual sun rays and even colored powders are only being used for beach purposes, as the flimsy evening gowns this season demand lovely complexions.

Beach parasols have never been so popular as they will be this year. Small cloche-shaped beach hats will be worn to ward off the sun and to keep one from getting wrinkles about the eyes—"sunsquinting wrinkles," they are termed. Heavy powders are to be used for beach purposes. Shoulder capes will keep milady's shoulders white and long-sleeved bathing suits are designed to prevent freckled arms.

Bathing Suit Styles

Several years ago Annette Kellerman appeared in a one-piece bathing suit and since then thousands of women harkened to the call of the "figure" and appeared in these snug-fitting garments. Figures became so plentiful that the beach censor couldn't add them. And what happened? Figures ceased to be an attraction. Today the Fashionables let the others loll about with bare limbs and skin-tights, while they themselves don bathing costumes which look like abbreviated street frocks, or sports costumes. Suits of silks and satins embroidered and trimmed exactly like the frocks of this season form the dressy type of bathing suit while long-sleeved, tailored types with Eaton collars and cuffs follow the sports lines.

A typical costume of the better class is made of navy blue taffeta with batteau neckline, long bodice and short skirt which is made plain in front and rear with full, shirred side-panels. A bow of red ribbon begins at the front neckline and terminates in long ends which are finished with red tassels. The tiny bloomers which are concealed beneath the skirt are red.

Black bathing suits with front panels of vividly colored embroidery and with a huge bow on one hip are favored by many shops. Little shoulder capes of self-material are smart and huge rubberized scarfs with flower patterns are numerous. Except for the shortness of the skirt, the bathing suit varies slightly from the street frock, having all the accessories of the street frock; cloche-shaped hat, vivid scarf, parasol vanity bag, etc.

Question of Material

Among the materials which are popular this season are taffetas, satins, cretonnes, linens, ginghams, jerseys and flannel. Cretonne appliques are used on plain materials to form border effects. Printed cretonnes form entire bathing suits. Ginghams are used for the more youthful types in little dress effects and flannel favors the tailored mode.

A popular long-sleeved black satin costume is made in tunic style, with the bloomers showing beneath the skirt. White satin collar and cuffs are used on this model and a row of white pearl buttons extend down the front of the tunic. Other black satin garments are made in long-waisted effect with three-tiered skirts.

Beach capes of striped flannel and cretonne of vivid colors are popular. The white flannel cape with a border of three contrasting colors of flannel at the hem is very pretty.

One particularly pretty model has strips of black, orange, yellow and blue flannel stitched onto a white flannel cape.

Following the mode for Spanish shawls we see an occasional Spanish bathing costume which is made of crepe with huge floral designs embroidered throughout and with a fringe about the hem of the skirt.

Many of the new bathing suits are very expensive, but most of them give us the idea that we can cut off the lower part of last Spring's frock and have a duplicate of these costly models.

Colored scarfs wound about the head are perhaps the most popular head-gear this season. The tight-fitting rubber cap is worn underneath this to keep the hair dry. One ties the scarf after the manner of the bandana, with a knot in front or with a knot at one side and with the ends hanging over the shoulder.

PUNISHMENT FOR DRUNKEN DRIVERS

OVER in Denmark they have little patience with men who drive automobiles while intoxicated. When a person is convicted of driving while intoxicated, his license to drive is taken away from him, and he is never again allowed to drive a car. Never is a long time, but the authorities there evidently agree that a drunken man cannot be trusted with a machine so potentially dangerous as an automobile.

Members of automobile clubs in this country are advocating the enactment of a similar law, says the Keewatin Chronicle. In most instances, the request is that a man convicted of attempting to mix gasoline and moonshine be forbidden to drive a car for at least a year. Some go farther, and want him perpetually barred. There is little doubt that some stringent laws will be passed along this line at the next session of the Minnesota legislature. The number of drunken drivers arrested in Keewatin within the past week is an indication that without the vigilance of the police, serious accidents might have happened. These same drivers, or others like them, drive on the country roads, which are narrow, and often cause accidents there. Real control is needed.

Some judges seem to have no idea of the enormity of the offense of driving cars while drunk and simply mete out punishment for drunkenness. What would the superintendent of a railway do to a drunken engineer who endangered his own train, as well as the yards and other trains? The crime is not that of merely being drunk, but it is the potential damage inherent. A drunken driver, careening about a highway, carries death and destruction, maiming and car damage in his path. An oncoming car can only take to the ditch to avoid a drunken driver. Rules of the road mean nothing to the drink-sodden driver. A law prohibiting him from ever again driving a car may bring him to his senses.

TESTING THE ONE YOU ARE TO MARRY

THE Minneapolis Journal has an editorial in Sunday's issue entitled, "Testing the One You are to Marry." The golf course, the tennis court, the college campus and the business office, suggests the writer, offer more favorable conditions for determining the degree of liking than do the ball room or the rose bower.

The office, continues the writer, is a much better place to test temper and character than the golf course or the ball room. Here one has an opportunity to study character under stress and temptation. The office self is not the recreation self, all dressed up and ready for a good time. It is the harnessed self, following the routine and beset by details and harassments. Then, if ever, character shows itself and can be tested.

These writers, it seems to use, do not know the psychology of a girl's mind. We think that the girl uses this simple test, which can be applied anywhere and at any time. If she can make a fool of a man, make him do the most unusual things according to her whim and fancy, why she has him tested. If he comes back, he's hers for keeps. If he quits her because of such foolishness, the girl reasons she could not have controlled him any way and takes defeat philosophically.

WORD PAINTING OF DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

WE have waited long for an adequate description of the Democratic convention to date, of a word painting that would do justice to that great gathering, of a line of thought that would give one a slant of illumination like a ray of sunlight piercing the gloom, and here is what Samuel G. Blythe has to say:

"The great wave of political hokum that has been sweeping over the Democratic party for a week broke on the convention beach at 2 a. m. Sunday, casting off a large number of jelly fish, eels, squid and cuttlefish and leaving the managers of the Ku Klux and anti-Ku Klux forces all sprawled out in the backwash, covered with spume, and with sand in their ears, their noses, their eyes and down the backs of their necks.

"After months of agitation that culminated in the last seven days of ballyhoo, bluff, bigotry, billingsgate and bunk, the result was that the klan triumphed for their immortal principles over the equally eternal principles of the anti-klaners by a shred of one vote. The situation sewed up in a bag is that the political fortunes of one Calvin Coolidge have been entirely enhanced."

DISSECTING THE NORTH DAKOTA RESULTS

THE Minneapolis Tribune thus sums up a review of the North Dakota primary:

"The primary outcome looks to have something more than a state significance. An impartial observer scarcely can do otherwise than discern in the result a popular temper that does not bode well for either of the old parties in North Dakota in the November elections if Senator La Follette should decide to run for the presidency.

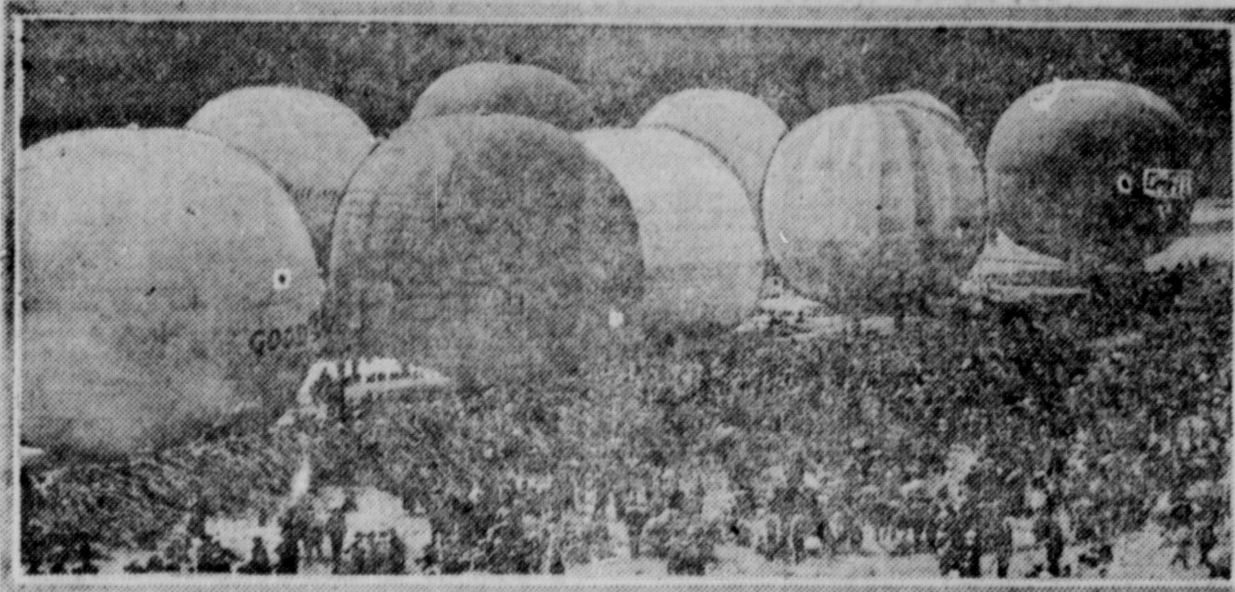

"The victory of the league candidate in North Dakota, the renomination of Brookhart in Iowa, and the formidable Farmer-Labor vote in the Minnesota primaries are all symptoms that there is a widespread spirit of political desperation to be reckoned with in November unless something happens in the meantime to change the complexion of things. The work ahead of the Republican party is two lobed—to make a convincing presentation of its case, local and national, and to get out the Republican vote."

GOING on a vacation means a lot of advance trouble. Contingencies two weeks in the future, from milkman to ice man, must be taken care of. The most difficult problem is to dispose of the family dog. We know one family who took care of a friend's dog and lost him the very first day. Sometimes getting ready for a vacation and recovering thereafter takes all the joy out of the thing.

"LARRY HO" has been secured as the speaker of the day on the Fourth. Brainerd and range people are familiar with Mr. Hodgson's eloquence which has stirred many an Elks' audience. He will be one of the big features of Independence Day in Brainerd.

THE Senators must feel quite dizzy with the top position in the American League. So long as memory runneth not the contrary, they've never been in such a vantage seat until this season.

BALLOONS ON BELGIAN AVIATION FIELD READY FOR START OF INTERNATIONAL RACE FOR BENNETT TROPHY

was progressive. We did it with the aid of progressive republicans, and the endorsement we gave them in our platform is the only endorsement they will get.

"If we attempt to nominate a reactionary, which I consider impossible in this convention, we could not draw reactionaries from the republican party. We have tried it before.

"Now I mention one who made it possible for us to have a progressive platform. If he had not made the fight we would not have a progressive convention today. But because of his courageous leadership we have a progressive convention. This man is entitled to credit whether you nominate him or not. He is William Gibbs McAdoo."

At the mention of McAdoo's name hisses, hoots and jeers crashed against the opposing cheers and shouts of applause.

"The oil men. How about the oil men?" came up from the floor. Individuals clamored with demands to make speeches denouncing McAdoo's oil connections.

"Oil, oil, oil," came from this way and that. "I am from Jersey City," cried one man. "I voted for you three times."

"Will the gentleman inform of his state?"

"I'm from New Jersey," was the reply, "and I voted for you every time you ran for president, and I'm sorry."

The speaker on the floor said his name was Joseph F. Fitzpatrick, of Jersey City.

"I will answer the gentleman's questions," Bryan started again. "You have said that Walsh is the greatest investigator in the United States. Senator Walsh has exposed the fact that McAdoo was employed by Doheny."

"I will answer that question," Bryan promised.

Someone yelled, "Give him time, give him 20 years."

"Are you not as willing to answer as you are to ask a question?" Bryan asked.

"The gentleman has asked about McAdoo's retainer from Mr. Doheny."

Let me answer that," he continued. "McAdoo's retainer had to do with oil in Mexico. But I will go further than that. If any oil has ever touched William Gibbs McAdoo the intense and fervent opposition of Wall Street washed all the oil away."

"No man who allows Wall Street to influence his actions has any right to criticize McAdoo."

"I want to answer that gentleman further," Bryan said.

"Is Youngstown, O., in Mexico? How did he get $200,000 for getting taxes back?" interrupted Dennis Dunleavy of Ohio.

"You dodged to something else; you did not stick to the case on oil," Bryan replied.

"How about the contract in Atlanta, can you excuse that, too?" shouted another heckler.

"The same old band," several shouted.

"The bar associations have the right to disbar him if he has been guilty of this," Bryan continued, speaking of McAdoo. "But I want to speak of something more important than men."

Ed Moore of Ohio called for a return to the regular business. Walsh refused to recognize any motions.

"The speaker has the floor for 30 minutes, and cannot be interrupted," Walsh said. Moore attempted to appeal from the decision of the chair.

"Now I want you to hiss and scoff at my principles if you dare," Bryan resumed.

FARM-LABORITES FACE CRISIS AS RIFT DEVELOPS

DISPUTE OVER MAHONEY RENDS
PARTY ON EVE OF CONVEN-
TION

MINNESOTANS BACK SHIPSTEAD
IN CONTEST FOR VICE PRESIDENT

(From St. Paul Daily News)
The Minnesota Farmer-Labor party today faced a crisis in its affairs as delegates left for the national presidential convention at Cleveland. The rift between the leaders of the party is an outgrowth of the third party convention held in St. Paul June 17.

The developments today were:
A. B. Gilbert, state manager of the Nonpartisan League, refused to serve on the state committee with William Mahoney, St. Paul labor leader.
At the same time, Julius J. Reiter, Rochester mayor and nominated farmer-labor candidate for first district congressman, threatened to withdraw from any connection with the farmer-labor party central committee if any one connected with the St. Paul convention was a member of the committee.

Mr. Reiter made his demand in an open letter to Floyd B. Olson, farmer-labor candidate for governor. In the missive he severely condemns those behind the St. Paul convention and appeals to Mr. Olson to take the lead at the meeting of state candidates July 7 in an effort to have those behind that convention kept off the state committee.

Incidentally, a three-cornered fight was in prospect at the July 4 convention in Cleveland of the Conference for Progressive Political Action.

The fight will be for the nomination for vice president, on the ticket which will boost LaFollette for president. The Minnesota vote will be thrown to Senator Henrik Shipstead, withdrawing the railroad brotherhood delegates' votes from McAdoo, according to indications today.

G. T. Lindsten, Minneapolis alderman, who starts to the convention tomorrow as a brotherhood of railroad trainmen delegate, said a majority of delegates from his organization have left McAdoo for LaFollette. A. B. Gilbert, state Nonpartisan league manager, said his 10 delegates are solid for LaFollette.

The big fight, if one develops, may be for the vice presidential nomination, between Sen. Shipstead, Sen. Burton K. Wheeler and Warren F. Stone, chairman of the brotherhood of railway engineers.

Among delegates from St. Paul are Wm. Mahoney, president, State Farmer-Labor federation; Scott L. Gipple of the Railway Carmen, and Charles Gmeiner, vice president, National Fur Workers' union.

There will be 30 Minnesota delegates at the convention.

The trouble between Mr. Mahoney

Canadian War Veteran, Declaring Wound Drove Poundage Up to 440, Asks for Pension Increase

John W. Calhoun of Toronto is seeking an increase in his war pension on the ground that he is getting fatter every day. He attributes his steady and alarming increase in weight from 192 pounds

and Mr. Gilbert became known shortly after Mr. Mahoney announced that despite refusal of Robert M. LaFollette to run as a candidate of the party, and charges of communist control of the convention, that it would be held.

The Minnesota Leader, official organ of Mr. Gilbert as state manager of the league, then declared that Mr. Mahoney should withdraw from the Farmer-Labor federation, formed by the merging of the Nonpartisan league, and the Working People's Nonpartisan Political league.

However, on June 26, at the meeting of farmer-labor candidates, Mr. Mahoney and Mr. Gilbert both were named by Emil Holmes as committeemen for the coming election fight. "I was not previously consulted, and it ought to have been apparent that I would not serve with Mr. Mahoney," a statement by Mr. Gilbert this morning says. "I shall refuse to serve on any farmer-labor party committee not lined up right for the league farmers of our state."

"I believe the candidates will line up an excellent committee. But, on the other hand, I know the capacity of Mr. Mahoney for stirring up trouble and embarrassing our movement. Mr. Mahoney's recent attempts to deliver our party to communist influences and his unwarranted attack on Sen. LaFollette, to my mind, make him an unsafe man in our party."

"The great opportunity of the farmer-labor party of Minnesota is to offer hope of regeneration in our public life. The people expect as much of it. FARM-LABORITES FACE CRISIS AS RIFT DEVELOPS

DISPUTE OVER MAHONEY RENDS
PARTY ON EVE OF CONVEN-
TION

MINNESOTANS BACK SHIPSTEAD
IN CONTEST FOR VICE PRESIDENT

(From St. Paul Daily News)

The Minnesota Farmer-Labor party today faced a crisis in its affairs as delegates left for the national presidential convention at Cleveland. The rift between the leaders of the party is an outgrowth of the third party convention held in St. Paul June 17.

The developments today were:

A. B. Gilbert, state manager of the Nonpartisan League, refused to serve on the state committee with William Mahoney, St. Paul labor leader.

At the same time, Julius J. Reiter, Rochester mayor and nominated farmer-labor candidate for first district congressman, threatened to withdraw from any connection with the farmer-labor party central committee if any one connected with the St. Paul convention was a member of the committee.

Mr. Reiter made his demand in an open letter to Floyd B. Olson, farmer-labor candidate for governor. In the missive he severely condemns those behind the St. Paul convention and appeals to Mr. Olson to take the lead at the meeting of state candidates July 7 in an effort to have those behind that convention kept off the state committee.

Incidentally, a three-cornered fight was in prospect at the July 4 convention in Cleveland of the Conference for Progressive Political Action.

The fight will be for the nomination for vice president, on the ticket which will boost LaFollette for president. The Minnesota vote will be thrown to Senator Henrik Shipstead, withdrawing the railroad brotherhood delegates' votes from McAdoo, according to indications today.

G. T. Lindsten, Minneapolis alderman, who starts to the convention tomorrow as a brotherhood of railroad trainmen delegate, said a majority of delegates from his organization have left McAdoo for LaFollette. A. B. Gilbert, state Nonpartisan league manager, said his 10 delegates are solid for LaFollette.

The big fight, if one develops, may be for the vice presidential nomination, between Sen. Shipstead, Sen. Burton K. Wheeler and Warren F. Stone, chairman of the brotherhood of railway engineers.

Among delegates from St. Paul are Wm. Mahoney, president, State Farmer-Labor federation; Scott L. Gipple of the Railway Carmen, and Charles Gmeiner, vice president, National Fur Workers' union.

There will be 30 Minnesota delegates at the convention.

The trouble between Mr. Mahoney

Canadian War Veteran, Declaring Wound Drove Poundage Up to 440, Asks for Pension Increase

John W. Calhoun of Toronto is seeking an increase in his war pension on the ground that he is getting fatter every day. He attributes his steady and alarming increase in weight from 192 pounds

and Mr. Gilbert became known shortly after Mr. Mahoney announced that despite refusal of Robert M. LaFollette to run as a candidate of the party, and charges of communist control of the convention, that it would be held.

The Minnesota Leader, official organ of Mr. Gilbert as state manager of the league, then declared that Mr. Mahoney should withdraw from the Farmer-Labor federation, formed by the merging of the Nonpartisan league, and the Working People's Nonpartisan Political league.

However, on June 26, at the meeting of farmer-labor candidates, Mr. Mahoney and Mr. Gilbert both were named by Emil Holmes as committeemen for the coming election fight.

"I was not previously consulted, and it ought to have been apparent that I would not serve with Mr. Mahoney," a statement by Mr. Gilbert this morning says. "I shall refuse to serve on any farmer-labor party committee not lined up right for the league farmers of our state."

"I believe the candidates will line up an excellent committee. But, on the other hand, I know the capacity of Mr. Mahoney for stirring up trouble and embarrassing our movement. Mr. Mahoney's recent attempts to deliver our party to communist influences and his unwarranted attack on Sen. LaFollette, to my mind, make him an unsafe man in our party."

"The great opportunity of the farmer-labor party of Minnesota is to offer hope of regeneration in our public life. The people expect as much of it. With victory almost certain this fall, unless we defeat ourselves, it is most important that the party set its house in order and thus show the people that it can be worthy of their support."

Gun Fire Doesn't Kill Fish

That fish, contrary to popular superstition, are not frightened or killed by heavy gunfire, is reported by an observer for the California fish and game commission, who was on the United States battleship Idaho in fleet battle practice off the California coast. The heaviest guns of the fleet were fired at intervals for hours and over a large area of the ocean, yet during the thick of the firing no fish were seen to jump from the water as frightened fish do, nor was a single dead fish found afterwards.

It is explained that the vibrations of the air produced by sound above water are not transmitted to the water to any appreciable extent. Severe shocks under water, such as those due to mine explosions, kill fish, but they are apparently little affected by detonations above the surface.

Relief for the Ears

Application of photography to sound by a London scientist has now made possible the elimination of ear-piercing noises in railway operation. Under the direction of Prof. A. H. Low, an extended series of tests made for the underground electric railways of London, has disclosed the principal sources of disturbing noises in subways, with the result that Londoners in the future will travel in comparative silence. The intensity of noises is measured by means of an ingenious device consisting of a trumpet to catch the sound, and arranged so as to cause a diaphragm to vibrate. This vibration operates a mirror, causing a beam of light to play on a sensitized film. The study of the plates makes possible the detection of the noises.

Can a Woman Love Twice?

Eve was the first one to ask it of herself—since then every woman and girl has considered the same problem and many different decisions have resulted—mere man now comes out with flat-footed affirmation.

At last we have a positive answer to the age-old, yet ever new problem—"Can a Woman Love Twice? or, 'Should a Woman Re-marry?'" I must say that it takes a deal of courage for anyone to come out with a flat-footed affirmation or denial that a woman can love twice—or thrice, for that matter—or that she can re-marry just as often as she likes—or can.

Consideration of the question by femininity throughout history, ancient and modern, has elicited almost as many negatives as affirmatives, and almost as many different angles as persons. However, it remained for mere man—two of them, in fact—aided, of course, by an extremely beautiful woman—to present a direct and extremely dramatic answer to the interrogation.

Work, and Banish Worry

It is not work that kills men; it is worry. Work is healthful; you can scarcely put more upon a man than he can bear. Worry is rust upon the blade. It is not the revolution that destroys machinery, but the friction. Fear secretes acid; but love and trust are sweet juices.—Beecher.

The Arabian Esop

Lokman, author of a collection of fables in Arabic, is known as the Arabian Esop. Nothing definite is known of him, but he is thought to have lived about the time of Kings David and Solomon.

They Like Felix

"Felix," a slow-moving old rat, is a pensioner at the Derby railway station, London, and is jealously protected by the station's staff. He will nibble his food, undisturbed, in full view of the throngs that pass in and out. If anyone tries to molest him, the station employees are quite indignant. It is their boast that no dog or ferret dare touch Felix and that he is too wise to take poison.

Remarkable Echo

If the famous Menai suspension bridge is taken down, as is possible, to be replaced by something more substantial, not only will a bridge be destroyed, but also a famous echo. The sound of a hammer is repeated from each supporting crossbeam in the bridge, and finally from the opposite pier 576 feet away.—London Mail.

Fata Morgana, in medieval romance, was a fairy, sister of King Arthur. She lived on the Isle of Avalon. The name is also used of a mirage seen in the Strait of Messina, caused by Morgana.

That fish, contrary to popular superstition, are not frightened or killed by heavy gunfire, is reported by an observer for the California fish and game commission, who was on the United States battleship Idaho in fleet battle practice off the California coast. The heaviest guns of the fleet were fired at intervals for hours and over a large area of the ocean, yet during the thick of the firing no fish were seen to jump from the water as frightened fish do, nor was a single dead fish found afterwards.

It is explained that the vibrations of the air produced by sound above water are not transmitted to the water to any appreciable extent. Severe shocks under water, such as those due to mine explosions, kill fish, but they are apparently little affected by detonations above the surface.

Relief for the Ears

Application of photography to sound by a London scientist has now made possible the elimination of ear-piercing noises in railway operation. Under the direction of Prof. A. H. Low, an extended series of tests made for the underground electric railways of London, has disclosed the principal sources of disturbing noises in subways, with the result that Londoners in the future will travel in comparative silence. The intensity of noises is measured by means of an ingenious device consisting of a trumpet to catch the sound, and arranged so as to cause a diaphragm to vibrate. This vibration operates a mirror, causing a beam of light to play on a sensitized film. The study of the plates makes possible the detection of the noises.

Can a Woman Love Twice?

Eve was the first one to ask it of herself—since then every woman and girl has considered the same problem and many different decisions have resulted—mere man now comes out with flat-footed affirmation. At last we have a positive answer to the age-old, yet ever new problem—"Can a Woman Love Twice?" or, "Should a Woman Re-marry?" I must say that it takes a deal of courage for anyone to come out with a flat-footed affirmation or denial that a woman can love twice—or thrice, for that matter—or that she can re-marry just as often as she likes—or can.

Consideration of the question by femininity throughout history, ancient and modern, has elicited almost as many negatives as affirmatives, and almost as many different angles as persons. However, it remained for mere man—two of them, in fact—aided, of course, by an extremely beautiful woman—to present a direct and extremely dramatic answer to the interrogation.

It is their boast that no dog or ferret dare touch Felix and that he is too wise to take poison.

Walter F. Wieland in Graphic Manner Relates Impressions of the Momentous Gathering

AN INSPIRING CONVENTION

His Address at Brainerd Rotary Luncheon Tuesday Was a Most Interesting One

"We shall now hear Walt Wieland tell us of his attendance at Rotary International," said Acting President John F. Woodhead, at the Rotary luncheon Tuesday. Walt's subject is "On to Toronto and Back."

In a half hour address Mr. Wieland portrayed the immensity of the convention, and sought to give the impressions he received regarding its earnestness, and the eloquence registered in the various inspiring addresses given. Registrations showed 9,180 present.

Mr. Wieland recorded his steps of the journey, rail to Duluth, the lake trip, the junction with western Rotarians from Canada and the Pacific coast. He had the highest praise for the generosity and good fellowship of the western Canadians.

Convention headquarters were ideally situated and all proceedings were carried out with the utmost dispatch. Convention hall is located on the shores of Lake Ontario. A notable feature was the opening pageants portraying pioneer history and opening with the Minute Men of '76, concluding with a patriotic concert by massed bands. The grandstand held 16,000 people and some 10,000 more were in the overflow. The pageant symbolized the good feeling pervading America and England in their relations and also featured Canada and the United States, whose coast to coast boundary carried no forts, no soldiers.

Delegates from England numbered 300. New Zealand sent a delegation, so did Uruguay, Argentine, Brazil and other South American states. With many of these Mr. Wieland had conversations.

President Gundaker's Address
President Guy Gundaker said Rotary's destiny is the establishment of a world fellowship of business and professional men, united in the Rotary idea of service. A world fellowship, while necessarily contingent on the extent and successful establishment of Rotary in all the nations of the world, is likewise contingent on the correctness of the standards of business practice of the men privileged to enter that fellowship.

Until men meet on the common ground of correct business methods, there can be no world fellowship of business men. The major Rotary activity for the immediate future will be an increasing and unceasing activity for better business methods and the standardization in codes and ethics. In countries where crafts are organized with great national associations, the greatest opportunity for achievement will be found in Rotary's campaign for written codes of correct standards of business practice.

Rotary has set its hand to the plow for correct business methods. Those who plow go straight on their course, always fixing their gaze in the distant goal. Our goal is a code for every business, and profession rests with the individual Rotarian to say how soon the plowmen complete their task.

C. McCullough's Address
An excerpt from C. McCullough's address: "Rotary is a creation of the Anglo-Saxon mind. That it has spread into other countries is simply a proof that the Anglo-Saxon mind has conceived an institution which can be accepted by and be of service to other countries. It is, as we believe, that our conception of politics and of government and the constitutional right of our people is an ideal which eventually will be accepted by democracies of all other nations, and upon us rests the main responsibility of seeing that the institution Rotary is carried around the world as nearly a replica of the thing that we know as Rotary as may be."

Chairman Haven's Speech
Chairman Haven's speech, an excerpt of which is given: "Rotary as an organization has, in its final analysis, two basic activities: first, the physical, that of extension and administration; second, the inspirational and that of education and practice. It is this second activity with which we are interested at the present moment. That is the activity that involves the responsibility of the individual. This activity draws us out and inspires us. It is truly the starting point."

What have we in Rotary to indicate the direction, this activity of Rotary education and Rotary practice should take? The aims and character of this activity are clearly defined in Rotary's motto in its platform, its code of ethics, its six objects. All of these point to the promotion of better conditions, and better relations in business and the professions.

YALE CREW RANKS HIGH FOR THE OLYMPICS

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, July 2.—America's colors will be swept over the Columbus-Argenteuil course on the River Seine in the Olympic nautical sports this month by as great an eight-oared crew as ever represented this country.

Yale's varsity eight smashed the Olympic record by 12 full seconds in the tryouts on the Schuylkill, in which the Ellis took the measure of the Navy officers. The race was not at the exact Olympic distance, but careful compilation of the Blue's time at the 2,000 metre mark showed the record smashed.

Of course, conditions on the diagonal course at Philadelphia may have been somewhat different from those on the Brussels canal, where the Navy made the existing record in 1920, and may be different from those to be encountered on the Seine. But the showing of Ed Leader's oarsmen is mighty cheering and places them above the Navy eight of four years ago, in the opinion of the experts.

The English crew, which is expected to furnish the main opposition, is in for a hard race, and Yale may start the favorite at Paris.

We do not know yet which of several excellent crews will be sent from England, or whether a special Olympic crew will be made up. They row for the Grand Challenge Cup on the Thames July 5, and the date of the first heat of the Olympic trials is July 10. Any oarsman knows what this means. If the winners of the Grand are to go to Paris, they will have to pack up hurriedly, cross the channel and get into some stiff competition on the Seine before they are fairly acclimated. And if England wins in the heats, its crew may have to row four times in a week.

The alternate would be for England to make up a special eight for the Olympics, which would, of course, weaken several of the crews which are entered for the Grand Challenge Cup.

The English might stand a beating by Yale, but it would be a sorry blow for the British lion if its oarsmen were to lose to some other country through too much work in too short a space of time, which well might happen.

Ed Leader is hopeful that the sweep-swingers he took to Paris will register a victory for the United States. It would be another feather in the cap of this serious young man from the west, who made Yale rowing what it is today, after turning out a magnificent lot of oarsmen at Washington University.

CENTRAL MINNESOTA GOLF ASSOCIATION

TO HOLD 4TH ANNUAL TOURNAMENT IN ST. CLOUD JULY 5, 6 AND 7

The Central Minnesota Golf Association will hold its fourth annual tournament at St. Cloud on July 5th, 6th and 7th, and all members of the local country club who are planning to attend are asked to get in touch with Edw. J. Egan as soon as possible. Mr. Egan has full information concerning this tournament and will be glad to explain it to all who are interested.

In selecting the days for this tournament, which are Saturday, Sunday and Monday following the Fourth, the officers have attempted to make it as convenient as possible for business and professional men to attend without being away from their duties for too long a time. The 5th, falling between the two holidays, will be considered by most towns as a holiday, so the 7th will actually be the only business day it will be necessary to be out of town, if members desire to stay the full three days. The Fourth will give those who desire it, an opportunity to drive down and be there ready to start play the morning of the 5th.

The association team match of five men each, representing the different clubs of Northern and Central Minnesota, will start at eight o'clock the morning of the 5th. This will be medal play of 36 holes and will last throughout the day.

The clubs that have been invited to come or send representatives are as follows, and many of them have responded stating that they will be represented at the tournament: Alexandria, Bemidji, Benson, Brainerd, Crookston, Crosby-Ironton, Detroit, Glenwood, Hibbing, Little Falls, Montevideo, Park Rapids, St. Cloud, Sauk Center and Willmar.

All players not entered in the team match will play 36 holes, which will serve as qualifying round for the different flights of the tournament. Pairings will be made in the evening of the 5th and match will commence the following morning.

There has been planned a chamampionship, a first, a second, a third and a fourth flight, so that everyone entered will be playing and playing with someone who plays with about equal ability. Each round will consist of 18 holes, match play, and after the first round consolation flights for each event will be drawn.

Cups will be presented to winners of the championship, first, second and third flights, and prizes of golf apparel and sports goods to the winners of the fourth and all consolation flights, as well as to the runner-up in the first three flights. Awards will be made to the lowest medal score made during 18 holes play on any one day, as well as to the player making the greatest number of birdies during the qualifying round. Other prizes will be given for features of the game.

On July Fourth, entertainment in the form of music, refreshments, horse shoe pitching, cards, dancing and golf has been provided to make up a very attractive program. Dancing will be held in the main hall of the club house during the afternoon and evening. Fireworks in the evening. Arrangements are being completed for a pro-amateur match during the afternoon and those who wish to witness the best of each club will see some excellent golf, it is prophesied. This event, however, will not interfere in any way with those who desire to play during the day.

M. E. Neely is president of the Central Minnesota Golf Association, and A. C. Fournet is secretary.

TIGERS PROVE TERRORS AT BAT, MAKING TWENTY-FOUR HITS

Never did a winning team deserve its victory more than did the Tigers last night when they defeated the Y. M. C. A. 14 to 2 at the Koering grounds. Under their new manager, H. Flitton, the victors played masterly ball. Van Walk pitched like a Class AA hurler, and was well supported throughout the game by the entire team. Van Walk's stunt of catching runners off base disrupted the Y offense. In the first inning he caught two men, and added two more later in the game. The Tigers were terrors at bat, nipping Ericsson's delivery for an even two dozen hits. Bedal and Anderson were the stars with the willow, each getting four hits in five trips to the plate. The Y. M. C. A. little resembled the team that defeated the Tigers earlier in the season. These teams meet once more under the league schedule.

The Tigers are planning a benefit dance on July 18 at Lum Park, for the purpose of raising money for uniforms. Tickets may be had from any member of the Tigers baseball team.

TIE FOUR TO FOUR IN SEALS-SHOPS GAME PLAYED

GAME CALLED IN THE FIFTH INNING ON ACCOUNT OF DARK-NESS

SECTION 4, RULE 28, SHOULD BE READ BY THE UMPIRES

The game between the Seals and the N. P. Shops at the South Sixth Street grounds, resulted in a tie. The Shops had a man on second base in the last half of the fifth inning when the umpire, through an error, called the batter out, thus retiring the side. The game was then called off on account of darkness.

For the players in general and umpires in particular, it would be well to make themselves more familiar with the rules. In this case, section 4 of Rule 28 should be given a thorough reading.

The box score follows: R. H. E. N. P. Shops.....030 10—4 6 1

Seals.....121 00—4 4 3

Jones and Olson were the battery for the Shops and Zak heaved for the Seals, Lepinski being on the receiving end. Jones struck out 9 and walked 2 men. Vanni and Schmraker umpired the game.

STIRBLING AIMS TO BE A HEAVY

GEORGIA BOY HOPES TO RIVAL JACK DEMPSEY IN THE FUTURE

Michigan City, Ind., July 2.—Young Stribling, who meets Harry Greb, middleweight champion, in a 10-round bout here July 4, is growing rapidly.

The Georgian has gained 52 pounds in three years. This is no "grow fat" advertisement, either. Also he is a head taller now than he was three years ago.

Three years ago Stribling—a strippling—weighed 117. Today he tips the Fairbanks at 169. And it is all solid stuff—not fat. He is big boned and spreads at the shoulders.

Pa and Ma Stribling see in their boxing son a heavyweight contender for Jack Dempsey's crown in another year. Eleven more pounds will swing him into the 180-pound class or better. He is five feet 11½ inches tall. And there is reason to believe that a growing 19-year-old boy will stretch up to over six feet. He has a 73-inch reach—an inch and a half more than Greb.

Stribling tipped 169½ for Tommy Loughran in New York the other night. He says his best poundage right now is 167 and he will not make weight for anybody. Greb brought the scales up to 171 for Gene Tunney. The Pittsburgh windmill is 11 years older than the Georgia peach.

Term of Opprobrium

The phrase "Dutch courage" means artificial courage, or boldness inspired by intoxicating spirits. There are no sturdier fighters than the Dutch, as history shows. "Dutch courage," however, is an expression which is used in opprobrium or derision. It arose from the emphy which existed between the English and the Dutch during the Seventeenth century.

High Above Sea Level

Measurements made of the heights of clouds at Melbourne show the highest cirrus clouds to be from 20,000 to 42,000 feet above sea level.

YALE CREW RANKS HIGH FOR THE OLYMPICS "Y" NINE

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, July 2.—America's colors will be swept over the Columbus Argenteuil course on the River Seine in the Olympic nautical sports this month by as great an eight-oared crew as ever represented this country.

Yale's varsity eight smashed the Olympic record by 12 full seconds in the tryouts on the Schuylkill, in which the Elis took the measure of the Navy officers. The race was not at the exact Olympic distance, but careful compilation of the Blue's time at the 2,000 metre mark showed the record smashed.

Of course, conditions on the diagonal course at Philadelphia may have been somewhat different from those on the Brussels canal, where the Navy made the existing record in 1920, and may be different from those to be encountered on the Seine. But the showing of Ed Leader's oarsmen is mighty cheering and places them above the Navy eight of four years ago, in the opinion of the experts.

The English crew, which is expected to furnish the main opposition, is in for a hard race, and Yale may start the favorite at Paris.

We do not know yet which of several excellent crews will be sent from England, or whether a special Olympic crew will be made up. They row for the Grand Challenge Cup on the Thames July 5, and the date of the first heat of the Olympic trials is July 10. Any oarsman knows what this means. If the winners of the Grand are to go to Paris, they will have to pack up hurriedly, cross the channel and get into some stiff competition on the Seine before they are fairly acclimated. And if England wins in the heats, its crew may have to row four times in a week.

The alternate would be for England to make up a special eight for the Olympics, which would, of course, weaken several of the crews which are entered for the Grand Challenge Cup.

The English might stand a beating by Yale, but it would be a sorry blow for the British lion if its oarsmen were to lose to some other country through too much work in too short a space of time, which well might happen.

Ed Leader is hopeful that the sweep-swingers he took to Paris will register a victory for the United States. It would be another feather in the cap of this serious young man from the west, who made Yale rowing what it is today, after turning out a magnificent lot of oarsmen at Washington University.

The Yale crew which went abroad immediately after the race with Harvard in June will scatter over Europe after the Olympic games are over. Captain Rockefeller and E. Sheffield will continue on eastward around the world.

TIE FOUR TO FOUR IN SEALS-SHOPS GAME PLAYED

GAME CALLED IN THE FIFTH INNING ON ACCOUNT OF DARKNESS

SECTION 4, RULE 28, SHOULD BE READ BY THE UMPIRES

The game between the Seals and the N. P. Shops at the South Sixth Street grounds, resulted in a tie. The Shops had a man on second base in the last half of the fifth inning when the umpire, through an error, called the batter out, thus retiring the side. The game was then called off on account of darkness.

For the players in general and umpires in particular, it would be well to make themselves more familiar with the rules. In this case, section 4 of Rule 28 should be given a thorough reading.

The box score follows: R. H. E. N. P. Shops.....030 10—4 6 1 Seals.....127 00—4 4 3 Jones and Olson were the battery for the Shops and Zak heaved for the Seals, Lepinski being on the receiving end. Jones struck out 9 and walked 2 and Zak fanned 6 and walked 2 men. Vanni and Schmraker umpired the game.

STRIBLING AIMS TO BE A HEAVY

GEORGIA BOY HOPES TO RIVAL JACK DEMPSEY IN THE FUTURE

Michigan City, Ind., July 2. — Young Stribling, who meets Harry Greb, middleweight champion, in a 10-round bout here July 4, is growing rapidly.

The Georgian has gained 52 pounds in three years. This is no "grow fat" advertisement, either. Also he is a head taller now than he was three years ago.

Three years ago Stribling—a strapping—weighed 117. Today he tips the Fairbanks at 169. And it is all solid stuff—not fat. He is big boned and spreads at the shoulders.

Pa and Ma Stribling see in their boxing son a heavyweight contender for Jack Dempsey's crown in another year. Eleven more pounds will swing him into the 180-pound class or better. He is five feet 11½ inches tall. And there is reason to believe that a growing 19-year-old boy will stretch up to over six feet. He has a 73-inch reach—an inch and a half more than Greb.

Stribling tipped 169½ for Tommy Loughran in New York the other night. He says his best poundage right now is 167 and he will not make weight for anybody. Greb brought the scales up to 171 for Gene Tunney. The Pittsburgh windmill is 11 years older than the Georgia peach.

Term of Opprobrium

The phrase "Dutch courage" means artificial courage, or boldness inspired by intoxicating spirits. There are no sturdier fighters than the Dutch, as history shows. "Dutch courage," however, is an expression which is used in opprobrium or derision. It arose from the emity which existed between the English and the Dutch during the Seventeenth century.

High Above Sea Level

Measurements made of the heights of clouds at Melbourne show the highest cirrus clouds to be from 20,000 to 42,000 feet above sea level.
